

Online Prayer Requests

ShelbyNext Websites – Premium (Ekklesia)

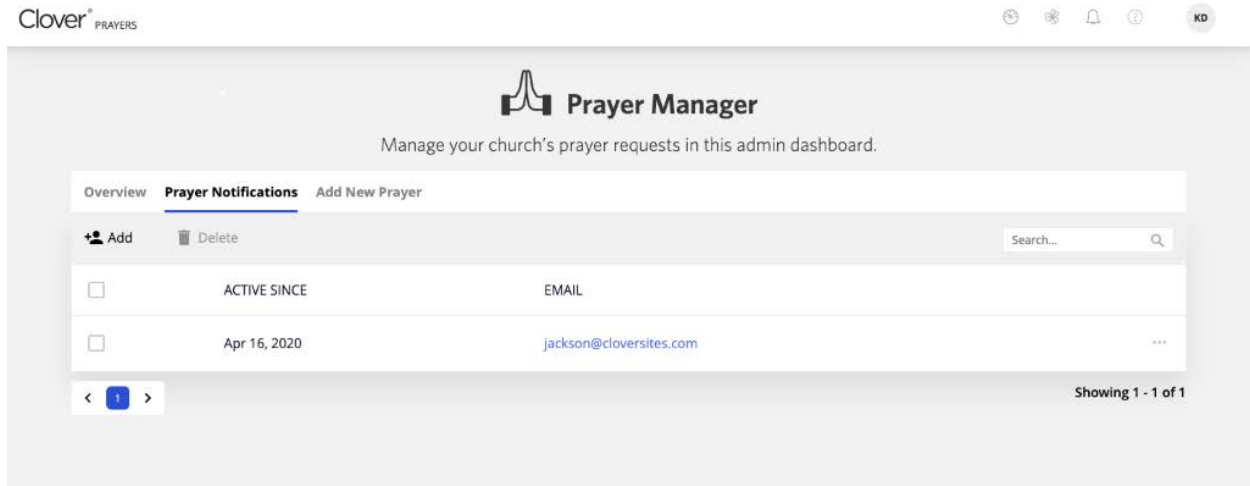

The Ekklesia team has recently released a free Livestream layout to all Ekklesia customers. Included in this layout is the ability to add chat, interactive sermon notes, and prayer. In the prayer area, during the livestream, you can request prayer and also click a button to let the requester know that you have prayed for them. The requester has a full list of privacy options when they submit their request, including an anonymous option. You, as the site admin, will approve all prayer requests as they come in. They won't display publicly until then. You also have the ability to set custom emails and notifications to both the requester and the prayer team. This adds another layer of interactivity to your live stream services and allows your attendees to be actively involved in the service.

Another option for prayer on your Ekklesia site is to add the full Prayer Layout ($350 one-time cost). Our Prayer Layout displays a list of prayer requests that other visitors to your site can pray for. Prayers can be submitted anonymously or with their information displayed and the option to be contacted. Other sections on the page highlight resources that visitors might be interested in such as sermons, blogs, support staff, small groups, events, and more! You can see an example of the full layout here: <http://layouts.ekklesia360.com/prayer/1/>.
